

Roi Uther Charter for Tiffauges project

The purpose of the Charter is to agree on the rights and duties of each of the parties taking part to the events of the association.

It is a tool for cohesion.

It is a living, founding and useful reference document.

Qualities

The participants undertake by their behavior to convey to Roi-Uther visitors and customers a rewarding image. The costumes must correspond to the specifications for all the actors of the event. Historicity should cover all actions within the site for the duration of the event. However, exemptions may be granted by the Roi Uther association, in agreement with the leading captains.

The programming is carried out with the teams of Roi Uther and communicated to the teams in May, before the event. Programming times must be respected to avoid disturbing the general organization.

The specifications allow the respect of both civilian and military costumes and the safety of reenactors during tournaments and scrums.

Throughout the duration of the contract, participants behave in the spirit of the event.

Festive activities, after the end of the event, are accepted, because they are part of our values, as long as they remain in the spirit of the event and its historicity.

However, they remain the responsibility of each company captain and no overflow will be tolerated, damaging the image of the project, that of the Roi Uther association and the respect of the participants of the event. Violators will be excluded from the following demonstrations.

State of mind

Roi Uther projects are geared towards a public coming to attend a lively and cultural show. They place themselves outside of politics and conflicts linked to religions.
